Visit our store in Chelsea Market

Headed to NYC? Come on by our retail store in the iconic Chelsea Market! Browse our full lineup of wholesale goodies, discover locally made treasures, and snag some of the most one-of-a-kind New York souvenirs you'll ever lay eyes on. Chelsea Market is located at 75 Ninth Ave., New York, NY 10011.

Hello Friends,

We have been selling British and European specialty foods for about 30 years and recently celebrated the 28th anniversary of our retail store in Chelsea Market.

Times are changing, whether through factors like Faire, tariffs, currency instability, or some health concerns, but we remain committed to proudly representing smaller brands we collaborate with to bring you and your customers exceptional tasting foods. These products are made by real people, often in family businesses, some multi-generational.

I have stayed the course to continue doing what we have done for decades.

We believe in our brands, and we are also introducing new ones that align with the direction we have established. Among them is Melt Chocolate from London, a luxurious and contemporary chocolate maker in Notting Hill. From Scotland, we bring you Orkney Bakery from the islands north of the mainland, makers of the beloved Scottish favorite, Millionaire Shortbread, as well as Struan Honey from northern Scotland, an apiary producing true heather honey.

We look forward to another year and holiday season growing our business, and hopefully helping you grow yours as well.

Fresh Finds

These brands are new to our wholesale lineup

MELT CHOCOLATE

Melt, a family chocolatier with posh shops in Notting Hill, Holland Park, and Selfridges, crafts exquisite chocolates in whimsical packaging. We're offering their bars and advent calendars for a limited time this season.

ORKNEY BAKERY

Orkney Bakery, a multi-generational family business from the Hebridean Islands, crafts Millionaire Shortbread (or in today's world, Billionaire Shortbread!) with a buttery shortbread, rich caramel, and chocolate, packaged to showcase each layer and offering a longer shelf life than most varieties.

STRUAN HONEY

From the far north of the Scottish Highlands, Struan Honey is harvested from wild heather by Nigel and Karen Robertson, who have tended their hives for over 50 years, delivering exceptional honey directly from the beekeeper to your morning toast.
